SUMMARY OF DEGREES.

Bachelor of Arts	6	Bachelor of Laws	38
Bachelor of Science	6	Total	59
Bachelor of Divinity	9

General Statements.

SCOPE OF THE UNIVERSITY.

The University includes a Preparatory School, an Academic School (with prescribed courses for the degrees of Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy), an Engineering School, a Law School, and a Theological School. All these are thoroughly equipped and provided with ample means of instruction.

BOARDING.

Students are received into the best families of the town, and are thus brought under the moral influences of good society.

SUGGESTIONS TO OUR PATRONS.

If possible, every student should enter the institution on the first day of each term, and should remain to the close. No student gets the full benefit of our courses of instruction if he loses any portion of them. Minors should be directed in the selection of their boarding-houses and courses of study, and should never be allowed to open accounts in the stores.

MATRICULATION.

No student will be allowed to recite before matriculating. As soon as the term has opened, and the student has selected his course of study, he will report to the University Treasurer, who will receive his fees and furnish him a receipt bearing the seal of the University. This he is to show to the professors to whom he may recite.

DEGREES.

Hereafter the degrees of Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts, Civil Engineer, Bachelor of Laws, and Bachelor of Divinity will be conferred only upon students who have satisfactorily completed the prescribed course in the regular way, and who are present on Commencement day.

The degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy are conferred upon non-residents who give satisfactory evidence of having thoroughly studied the prescribed courses, and who present acceptable theses upon subjects assigned them by the Academic Faculty.

LECTURES.

Public evening lectures on literary and scientific subjects are delivered from time to time, at Caruthers Hall, by members of the University Faculty.

LIBRARY AND READING-ROOM.

The University Library contains nearly ten thousand volumes. It is open on certain days, and is free to all students.

CABINET OF MINERALS AND FOSSILS.

This includes many fine specimens, and additions are constantly being made. The friends of the University will confer a great favor by sending to the Professor of Natural Science any thing of this kind that they can secure.

PHILOSOPHICAL AND CHEMICAL APPARATUS.

This is amply sufficient for the full illustration of the course.

CHURCHES, ETC.

Lebanon is well supplied with churches and Sunday-schools, and all suitable means are used to induce students to attend them regularly.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

There is a live College Association, and it is a means of great good to the students of all departments of the University.

SOCIETIES.

Connected with the University are three literary societies:

THE AMASAGASSEAN SOCIETY.—This society was organized in 1837, at Cumberland College, Princeton, Ky. In 1842 it was transferred, with the College, to Lebanon. Motto: "Nos Palma Manet."

THE PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY.—This society was organized in 1854. Motto: "Nihil Sine Labore."

THE HEURETHELIAN SOCIETY.—This society was organized in 1854. Motto: "γνῶθι τὺν θεὺν ; γνῶθι σεάυτον."

These societies all have commodious and well-furnished halls, and hold their meetings every Saturday evening during the scholastic year. They also give public exhibitions from time to time in Caruthers Hall.

COLLEGE CODE.

The laws of the University are all embraced in the motto, "Semper præsens, semper paratus."

AGENT.

Rev. J. D. Kirkpatrick is the Financial Agent. The following is an approximate estimate of the present condition of the Endowment.

Productive Endowment, Theological School	$48,500
Productive Endowment, Academic School	25,000—73,500
Endowment not yet productive	55,000
Total Endowment	$128,500

Besides the above, there is a large amount secured to the University in legacies which have not yet passed into the hands of the Board of Trustees.

DEPARTMENT OF INSTRUCTION.

The following more explicit statements will convey a clearer idea as to what is actually taught in the Theological School:

I.—Exegetical Theology.

Under this head the origin, authorship, language, history, character, exposition, and doctrines of the Sacred Scriptures are studied. It includes: 1. General and Special Introduction, under which are placed Sacred Philology, Isagogics, Canonics, Sacred Criticism, and Hermeneutics. 2. Practical exercises in Exegesis, founded on the rules and principles established by Hermeneutics. In these exercises the student is required to study the grammatical, logical, rhetorical, and historical peculiarities of the passages assigned, and to observe in every case, so far as practicable, the rule that Scripture is the best interpreter of Scripture. 3. Biblical Theology, or the doctrines of the Old and New Testaments, studied according to their progressive development, and the various forms under which they appear. It includes Messianic Prophecy, or Christ in the Old Testament—both in its narrower and broader senses.

II.—Historical Theology.

Under this head are included: 1. Biblical antiquities, or the study of the various customs, manners, social and political institutions, etc., of the ancient Bible Nations. This is essential to a thorough and intelligent understanding of many parts of the Scriptures. 2. Christian antiquities, or the domestic, social, and civil life, etc., of the early Christians. 3. History of Christian Doctrine. 4. Church History.

III.—Systematic Theology.

This branch of Theological Science, as taught here, occupies itself with the investigation and systematic development of Christian doctrines, some of which are peculiar to Cumberland Presbyterians, others being confessed by the Christian world as a whole. They are presented, for the most part, didactically and polemically, the historical discussion of them being referred to the department of Historical Theology. The plan pursued is substantially that given in Dr. Beard's published lectures. The logical basis of Systematic Theology is laid by the instruction given in Exegetical Theology, though this must necessarily, to a certain extent, be anticipated, and the two be pursued simultaneously.

*Recited with the Law Class to the Law Professors.

IV.—Practical Theology.

Or, 1. The ground, origin, extent, aim, and nature of the various offices of the Church, especially of the Ministry of the Gospel. 2. The nature, character, material, form, and delivery of the sermon. 3. Sacred worship, or the principles regulating the public service of the congregation. 4. The pastor in relation to his flock and to the world. 5. Christian Missions. 6. Apologetics and Christian Ethics.

TEXT-BOOKS AND REFERENCES.

Law School.

ESTABLISHED 1847.

PROFESSORS.

NATHAN GREEN.
ANDREW B. MARTIN.

HISTORICAL NOTE.

The success of this school, from its origin to the present, has been unparalleled by any other similar institution. Fully two thousand young men have here received instruction in the law, and of this number there are preserved and published in the last general catalogue the names of more than one thousand who have graduated from its walls. They are scattered throughout the entire country, at the bar and on the bench. They are present in both houses of the United States Congress, and wherever they may be found it may be said the systematic training received here and exhibited in successful careers is giving prestige to their alma mater.

PLAN OF INSTRUCTION.

It is only by exerting the energies of his own mind that a student can qualify himself for the bar. Any plan which would propose to make a lawyer of him without his doing the hard work for himself would be idle and visionary. The virtue of any plan of instruction must consist of two things:

1. That it cause the student to work, or, in other words, to study diligently.

To accomplish this we give the student a portion of the text as a lesson every day, and examine him on it the next day. He is required to answer questions upon the lessons thus assigned in the presence of the whole class. If he has any spirit in him—any pride of character—this will insure the closest application of which he is capable. Neither the old plan of studying in lawyers' offices, nor the other old law-school plan of teaching by lectures, have any thing in them to secure application. The student is brought to no daily examination to test his proficiency. There is not the presence of a large class in which he has to take rank, either high or low. All that is calculated to stimulate him to constant, laborious application is wanting in both these plans. We suppose no young man would from choice adopt the office plan as the best mode of acquiring a knowledge of law, and yet the law-school lecture system is no better. The law is in the text-book. The professor can no more make the law than the student himself. Every subject upon which a lecture could be given has been exhausted by the ablest professors, and printed in books after the most careful revision by the authors. We would regard it as an imposition on students, and as presumptuous on our part, to pretend that we could improve upon Kent, Story, Greenleaf, Parsons, and others, who have given to the public, in printed form, and acceptable to all, lectures on every branch of the law. We therefore think it better for the student to occupy his time in learning, with our assistance, what others have written, than in learning from any thing we could write. If our mode of teaching is more difficult to us, it is much more profitable to the student.

2. The plan should not only be calculated to make a student work, but it ought to so guide him and direct him as to make him work to the greatest advantage.

A man may work very hard, but still so unwisely that he will accomplish no valuable object. It is equally so with the farmer, the mechanic, and the law student. The student ought to have such a course of study assigned to him, and be conducted through it in such a way as that he will understand at the end of his pupilage the greatest amount of pure, living, American law, and will know best how to apply it in practice.

The duty of the professor in this school is to conduct the daily examination of students upon the lessons assigned them; to direct their minds to what is most important in the text-books; to teach them what is and what is not settled; to correct the errors into which they may fall; to dispel the darkness that hangs upon many passages—this is necessary every day, and at every step of their progress.

MOOT COURTS.

The law is a vast science, and a very difficult one, and the student needs every possible facility to enable him, by the most arduous labor, to comprehend its leading elementary principles. But this is not all he has to do. He has to learn how to apply these principles in practice. This is the art of his profession, and he can only learn it by practice. It is as necessary a preparation for assuming the responsibilities of a lawyer as the learning of the science. If he learns it at the bar, it is at the expense of his client; if he learns it in the school, it is at his own expense.

The advantage of the Moot Court System is, that it not only indoctrinates a student in the elementary principles of law involved in his cases, but also in the law of remedies. It trains him also to the discussion of facts, and to the exercise of that tact which is so important in real practice.

Practice in Moot Courts forms a part of the plan of instruction. Every student is required to bring suits in the forms adopted to all our courts, and conduct them to final hearing. The professors act as judges, and the students act as attorneys, jurors, clerks, and sheriffs.

COURSE OF STUDY.

This has been selected with care from the best works of the best American authors. It begins with the mere rudiments, and extends to every department of law and equity which may be of any practical benefit in this country, and is designed to prepare the student for an immediate entrance into the active duties of his profession.

FOR THE JUNIOR CLASS.

History of a Law Suit (by Judge Abraham Caruthers, who wrote the book expressly for this school), Kent's Commentaries (Vols. I., II., III.), Field on Corporations, May on Insurance, Greenleaf's Evidence (Vol. I.), and Stephens' Pleading.

FOR THE SENIOR CLASS.

Kent's Commentaries (Vol. IV.), Barton's Suit in Equity, Story's Equity Jurisprudence, Parsons on Contracts, and Bishop's Criminal Law.

This course may be completed in ten months, each class requiring a term of five months' study. Students entering either the Junior or Senior Class may begin in September or January. As only ten months are required, students will be expected to enter promptly at the beginning of each term.

Those who read the Junior course privately, and apply for admission to the Senior Class with a view to graduation, will be subjected to a rigid examination. If it is approved by the Faculty, the candidates will take their places in the Senior Class on the same footing as other members. It is most earnestly urged, however, upon all who possibly can, that they enter the Junior Class. Failing to do so, they miss much of the practice and drilling in elements and in forms taught in that class every term. A license to practice and a diploma will be given to all who are graduated. No previous reading of law, or any special literary qualifications, will be required to enter the school.

Books for the course may be bought in Lebanon at the prices stated under the head of EXPENSES, which is less than publisher's rates; or if the student should prefer not to purchase, the books for either class can be rented from booksellers in Lebanon for $12.50, to be paid in cash at the beginning of the term.

It must be remembered that the books used in this school are the regular text-books of the profession, and will always be needed in practice, and when once bought will last a life-time.

EXPENSES.

Tuition fee for term of five months (in advance)	$50 00
Contingent fee (in advance)	5 00
Boarding in families, per week	$3 00 to 4 00
Boarding in clubs, per month	8 00
Books of Junior Class	45 00
Books of Senior Class	45 00
Washing and lights, per session	$8 00 to 10 00
Diploma fee (for Seniors)	5 00

All graduates are invited to remain another year to review free of charge.

POST-GRADUATE COURSE.

Graduates of this or any other law-school, having a regular course equivalent to that taught here, may enter as candidates for the degree of Master of Laws.

The following works will be used: Washburn on Real Property, Cooley on Constitutional Limitations, Jarman on Wills, Benjamin on Sales, and Desty's Federal Procedure.

This course consists of ten volumes, which contain, in the aggregate, about six thousand pages. It may be accomplished in one term of five months. Students may enter at the beginning of the fall or spring terms, and will be required to pay the same contingent fee, tuition, and diploma fee, as in case of students of the regular course. They will also have all the advantages of moot courts, drillings, etc., that others have, and be subject to the same laws of the University. It is thought that many of our own and the graduates of other law-schools have the time and the means necessary to accomplish this course, and the Faculty feel sure it would greatly strengthen them in a knowledge of the law if they could be induced to take it.
